Books order are due for November on Wednesday, November 2nd by noon. If any of these books are for gift giving, please let us know and we will keep them in the office. There will be 1 more book order this year (2011) which will be due early December so books will be back before break. We will not have a January 2012 book order but will start orders again in February 2012.

Please staple a paper strip around lunchbox handles that have peanut butter sandwiches or any type of peanut butter product. Thank You!
